Grading scheme

In the Spanish university system, modules/courses are graded on a scale of 0 to 10 points with the following qualitative equivalence:

0-4.9: "suspenso"; 5-6.9: "aprobado"; 7-8.9: "notable"; 9-10: "sobresaliente". A special mention, "Matrícula de Honor" may be granted to up to 5% of the students in a group provided they have got a "sobresaliente". To pass a module/course it is necessary to get at least 5 points.

In cases of recognition of ECTS, professional experience, cultural or sports activities, or student representation no grading will be recorded but, where appropriate, the word "Apto".

INFORMATION ON THE FUNCTION OF THE QUALIFICATION

Access to further study

This qualification gives access to Doctoral studies, provided that the student has completed a minimum of 300 ECTS in the overall teachings of Bachelor and Master.

Stated objectives associated with the qualification and professional status (if applicable)

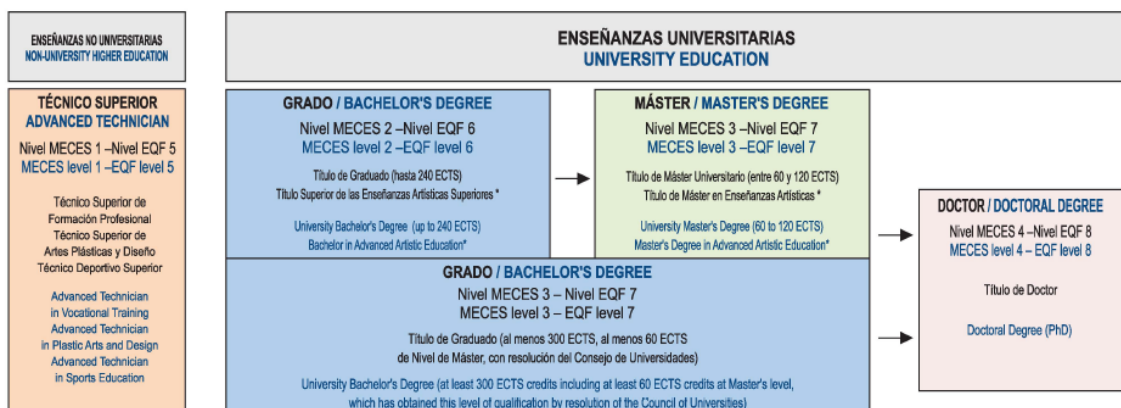

The main aim of this degree is identify the needs and demands of the contexts in which the application of methodological tools are required; prepare data for analysis (function in the relationship between databases and statistical analysis); define, measure and describe variables (personality, aptitudes, attitudes, etc.); plan and investigation identifying problems and needs, and run each of your steps; analyze data to identify differences and relationships; get information effectively from books, journals and other sources.

The designed program allows student to perform research activities independently and critically. With this purpose, the teaching is organized so that the student can get, first, the objectives that are considered common to any field of research. Then, they can achieve the specific goals linked to a concrete field of psychological research, and finally the students can apply in a research context the foreground.
