INFORMATION ON THE FUNCTION OF THE QUALIFICATION

Access to further study

This qualification gives access to Doctoral studies, provided that the student has completed a minimum of 300 ECTS in the overall teachings of Bachelor and Master.

Stated objectives associated with the qualification and professional status (if applicable)

This Master aims to define a field of enormous importance in the present moment, experiencing continuous transformations that affect the ways of understanding and practicing education in all advanced countries. It brings forward the recuperation of personal or collective memory of education as a possibility to meet the challenges of innovation and to build a meaningful future.

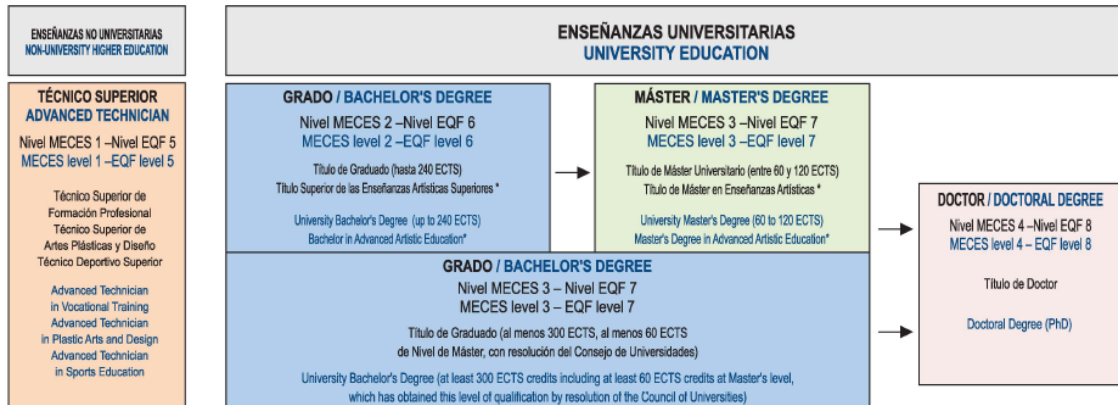

Upon completion of the degree students will master the basic principles, current trends and research methodologies in Theory and History of Education. They will value the current place of memory and criticism as one of the perspectives from which processes of change, reform and innovation in education may be approached.
